

OneSource Continues Corporate Growth with Expanded Presence in Canada

Additional Location in North America added to Growing International Presence

April 22, 2008

Toronto, Canada

OneSource Information Services, an infoUSA company, (NASDAQ: IUSA), a leading provider of corporate prospecting and intelligence data, is pleased to announce the opening of its new office in Toronto. This growth enables the company to continue to serve its Canadian clients even more effectively, while also proactively addressing the unique market requirements, and business environments of the country.

OneSource offers its customers' a wide variety of powerful data services for prospecting and business intelligence research. The firm's software-as-service approach via secure Web access, gives client companies the advantages of a robust application minus the hassles of installing, maintaining and updating traditional software. Users just login to access and leverage the most up-to-date business intelligence available – for timely and cost-effective sales and marketing programs, along with in-depth company research including financials, analyst reports and industry news, for informed business decisions.

“The addition of an office dedicated to serving our established Canadian clients, while at the same time approaching new business, is a huge boost to the level of personal service we can provide the region,” stated Colleen Honan, Senior Vice President of Global Sales and Service for OneSource. “Our expanded presence in the area means much more responsive face-to-face meetings with clients and prospects – to directly respond to their business requirements. We look forward to the development of long and prosperous relationships with our Canadian neighbors.”
